Major William O'Ryan of the Mitchell field general staff, accompanied by Major Chase, a Red Cross officer, immediately took off for the scene of the accident.

Believe it or not, but Pa. Newc visited a swimming pool along the Slippery Rock yesterday that was so crowded with bathers that it was impossible to swim. All one could do was stand up or sit down in the water and cool off. The bathers were crowded in like sardines.

It wouldn't be a bad idea for the state motor patrol to keep an eye on the road intersection at Harlansburg, occasionally. Yesterday, Pa. Newc observed a number of automobiles turning off the Perry highway onto the Harlansburg-Slippery Rock road at full speed, completely ignoring the stop signs. Several cars containing Pittsburghers openly ignored the signs.

Corn is earing up with silk on the ears, it was observed in a ride through the rural sections of the county yesterday, and it would not be surprising to hear of home-grown roasting ears on the market by next week.

Last evening's rain was more than welcome. Sunday proved a hot, sultry day, and the downpour cooled things off considerably.

During that rain yesterday, Pa. Newc noticed along the Youngstown to Milton Lake road two automobiles chugging along with canoes strapped on their roofs, two more autos with red rubber inner tubes (Continued On Page Two)

Girl Communist Leader Jailed

Sheriff And Deputies At Conneaut, Ohio, Raid Alleged "Red Camp"

OFFICERS FORCED TO USE TEAR GAS

(International News Service)
CONNEAUT, O., July 20.—Irene Dixon, 20-year-old alleged communist leader of Cleveland, today was to be given a hearing on a charge of disturbing the peace in connection with the raid of Sheriff C. H. Blanche and a group of deputies on a reported "red" camp for children near here.

Blanche and his men were forced to use tear gas when the girl leader, her 60 charges and about 20 parents, refused to obey his orders to fold their tents and leave. The children were said by Blanche to have been from Cleveland, Philadelphia, Toledo and Pittsburgh.

When the sheriff and his men approached the children and parents were said to have engaged in the singing of various communistic songs. Threatening speeches and other inflammatory gestures forced the police officers to use their tear gas, grenades and blackjacks freely.

After lodging the young girl in jail, Blanche and his men returned to find the camp site vacated.

Two "Rum War" Deaths Probed

New England Officials Probe Finding Of Two Men Slain In 'Rum War'

BOTH VICTIMS UNIDENTIFIED

(International News Service)
BOSTON, July 20.—Two "rum war" killings were under investigation in New England today following the discovery in Revere and in the Pawtucket section of Providence, R. I., of the bodies of two unidentified men, believed by police to have been slain through underworld quarrels connected with liquor.

The Revere victim was found in the rear seat of a sedan believed to have been stolen in New York, with two bullets in his head and one in his hand as if he had tried to ward off the onslaught of his slayers. Clay and dirt on the dead man's clothing led police to the belief that he had been slain at some other spot and his body dragged to the car which was then driven to the vicinity of Woodlawn cemetery and abandoned.

It was on this spot that Joseph Pisano, of Revere, was shot too dead less than a month ago.

Farrell Church Ruined By Fire

St. Adalbert's Polish Church At Farrell, Burns, Loss Is $75,000

CAUSE OF FIRE NOT DETERMINED

(International News Service)
FARRELL, Pa., July 20.—Fire today destroyed the St. Adalbert's Polish church here at a loss of $75,000.

The flames, it was believed, started in the kitchen from crossed wires and before they were discovered had eaten away one of the city's most beautiful structures.

Officials of the congregation denied reports that the fire was of incendiary origin. They said a recent schism in the ranks of the congregation led to this rumour.

These days are not for golfing folks, nor lads who play outdoors, nor for the folks who picnic much, when they have done their chores. But rather it is for the folks who raise the wily oats, and buttermilk and sauerkraut, or grow a flock of geese. For days like these are worth their weight in shekels shiny new, or diamonds or lavalieres, or gems from old Peru. For rainy days are lovely days, if you would raise a crop, to feed the lad who feeds the rolls, the plumber and the cop. So though the golfer frowns and snorts, and wishes it were fine, it suits the farmer through and through, the weather's seventy nine.

United Miners Open Sessions

Plenty Of Fireworks Expected To Flare At Biennial Sessions In Scranton

STRIKE THREAT IS AVERTED

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., July 20.—With ill-concealed bitterness manifest between administration and anti-administration forces, the biennial convention of district No. 1, United Mine Workers of America, opened here today with plenty of fireworks expected before it ends.

President John Boylan of Scranton, central figure of the ill-feeling between the factions, called the convention to order.

May Unseat Boylan.
A determined attempt will be made during the sessions, "insurgent" leaders declared, to unseat Boylan as district president and replace him with Thomas Maloney of Wilkes-Barre. Maloney ran for the district office after his name was ordered on the ballot by a mandamus issued in Luzerne county court, following refusal of district officials to carry his name on the ground he had not been legally nominated. The official count of votes cast in the election showed Boylan re-elected by a sizeable majority, but followers of Maloney claimed he was "counted out" by the tellers.

The official canvass of the election will be presented to the convention and its appearance will be the signal for the drive on the present administration.

Threat of a strike of 20,000 miners of the Pittsburgh Coal company in the district was averted for a time as the convention opened and it was decided to poll the locals represented and let a majority ballot decide whether the men will strike.

Many people were of the opinion that yesterday was the hottest day of the year, but the official thermometer only registered 95. The day was oppressive, however, and cool spots were sought by the sweating populace.

One of the most splendid roadways in Ohio is that connecting Diamond and Ravenna. Motorists get an irresistible urge to speed on that road and Pa New saw a sedan do a flip-flop Saturday. It was a car with Pennsylvania license No. 47Y90 and wasn't much good for anything after the wreck.

Sunday's heavy rain was a little too much for some cars on the highway and they stopped along the roadside until the water in the distributors dried away.

New Castle motorists, returning from the Akron dirigible races last night about dusk, were attracted by a mammoth dairy barn fire, near Rootsville. So were hundreds of other motorists and the result was a badly blocked jam. Movement was impossible for nearly two hours. Lightning, it was said, fired the barn. The flames reflected their light for nearly nine miles.

Mrs. Robert Guy died when surgeons performed an emergency operation in an effort to save the life of her expected child.

Little hope was held for McClanahan, Thomas Lamb, a driller, and John Melvin.

Forty received burns requiring hospital treatment and a staff of 14 surgeons, headed by Dr. L. F. Hyslop, have worked in the hospital here continuously since the disaster. Dr. Hyslop collapsed yesterday but was at work again today.

Experts Summoned
About 200 persons gathered Saturday when news spread that after years of drilling in this territory McClanahan had struck a well with an estimated flow of 2,600 barrels daily. The flow was too much for the tanks and one burst showering the spectators with oil. A moment later an explosion literally drenched the victims with a rain of fire.

Experts from the southwest oil fields were summoned to stop the flames.

CONFERENCE ON GERMAN CRISIS OPENS IN LONDON

Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, and Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, arrived in London from Paris last night in company with Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson of Great Britain. They will be assisted by Hugh Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, and later by Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to England, who is now in the United States.

The American delegation will make the Hyde Park Hotel its headquarters.

Stimson, Mellon and Henderson arrived at Victoria Station shortly before midnight. The latter immediately drove to No. 10 Downing street, residence of British prime ministers, and discussed the international position with Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald and Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden till far into the small hours.

Pessimism in London gave way to optimism when news of the Franco-German understanding reached London. Further encouragement was added by the cheerful statement of Foreign Secretary Henderson on his arrival last night. His use of the word "approachement" in mentioning the Franco-German understanding was considered significant. Henderson's statement was obviously designed as a reply to criticism that his and Premier MacDonald's decision not to go to Germany was a tactical blunder.

Paris, July 20.—The German and French ministers left the Gare d'Orléans for London at 10 o'clock a. m. today (five a. m. New York time) to attend one of the most important world conferences ever held.

They were due to arrive at Victoria station, London, at five p. m. (12 noon New York time) and to join British, American, Italian, Belgian and Japanese representatives in a preliminary session at the House of Commons at Westminster an hour later. The first session was scheduled to be held in the prime minister's office at the House of Commons. Later sessions will be held in the foreign office in Downing street.

A virtual traveling conference will be under way until the heads of the French and German governments reach Victoria station.

Occupying the same car were Premier Laval, Chancellor Brüning, Dr. Curtius, Foreign Minister Briand, M. Flaminio Piccoli and Paul Hymans, the latter representing Belgium, and Signor Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister.

Posed at one window of the coach was Aristide Briand, the French foreign minister, with his arms affectionately round the shoulders of Chancellor Brüning and Signor Grandi.

Hundreds cheered the ministers as the train pulled out of the station.

Stimson Not Prophecying
London, July 20.—Colonel Henry L. Stimson, American secretary of state and head of the American delegation to the London conference, today warned the American correspondents here against undue optimism over the outcome of the conference.

"We will do the best we can, but the facts speak for themselves. Prophecies don't count for much," he said.

He declined to say whether political considerations or disarmament will be among the subjects considered at the conference, but he admitted that he will meet Ambassador Tsuneo Matsudaira of Japan later today.

"I knew Ambassador Matsudaira at the London naval conference," Mr. Stimson said, which was interpreted as a hint that the subject of disarmament may be introduced at the forthcoming conference.

Delegates Arrive
LONDON, July 20.—The "conference special" bringing the French, German, Belgian and Italian delegates to the London conference arrived at Victoria station shortly after 5 p. m. today. The conference was scheduled to open at 6:30 p. m.

The visiting delegates were met at the station by Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, Foreign Minister Arthur Henderson, other government officials and representatives of the diplomatic corps. The station platform looked like a sea of silk "toppers."

Julius Curtius, German foreign minister, beamed upon newspaper correspondents.

"We did a 'chequers' in Paris amid a most pleasant atmosphere, but no agreement has been reached, so far," he said.

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, July 20.—General Elias Plutarco Calles, former president of Mexico, today was appointed governor of the bank of Mexico with almost dictatorial powers, according to the newspaper La Prensa.

Calles accepted the appointment immediately, the newspaper said, and has been empowered to take any steps which may be necessary to solve Mexico's present financial crisis. This action is expected to be along the line of rehabilitation of silver, which has again plunged to low levels during the past week.

President Ortiz-Rubio and the cabinet is expected to give formal approval to Calles' unrestricted powers in the very near future.

Big Run Creek Is Crowded With Hundreds Of Bathers Sunday Afternoon

A FEW DON'TS TO THE PUBLIC
There is no time in the world that one loves friends and gets to know them as well as in times of death in their family. We want to do just the right thing at the right time for our friends on these occasions, for the least thing done by you that it did at that time in the way of kindness means more to them than it would ever be noticed at any other time in their lives. A little thing done deep in the hearts of the people for many years to come.
The friend that at this time can nearly as possible see things from the side of things who are in trouble even though they did not look at them from the same angle, is worth their weight in gold. Be very careful what you do and say, as it is a long impression you are leaving there.

MARY BEADEL WEDS DR. R. G. CAMPBELL

One of the prettiest lawn weddings of the season and one of social prominence occurred Saturday evening at 6 o'clock when Miss Mary L. Beadel, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Beadel of Rhodes Place became the bride of Dr. Ralph G. Campbell, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell of Butler and New Castle.

The spacious lawn of the Beadel residence was beautifully arranged for the occasion with huge baskets of select flowers being placed along the pathway, leading to the rose garden, an ideal setting for such an event, where the nuptials were read.

The bride who was given away in marriage by her father, E. W. Beadel, was charming in a smart beige chiffon gown with tailored effect having lace vestee with basque, waist and a rippling peplum around the hips. It was made with medium length skirt and she wore accessories to match. Her shower bouquet was of the delicate white rose mixed with valley-lilies.

Miss Martha Beadel, sister of the bride who was chosen as maid of honor, was attired in a frock of turquoise chiffon fashioned on the same lines, with matching accessories. She wore a shoulder bouquet of yellow roses with other blooms of a blending shade.

Dr. F. H. Campbell of Canonsburg served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Beadel, mother of the bride, appeared in a gown of powder blue chiffon with harmonizing accessories.

The single ring service was used, with Dr. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiating in the presence of a large gathering of relatives of the couple.

Beautiful selections speaking of love, life and happiness, played by Miss Harriett Beadel, who also rendered the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party proceeded to the altar, were heard throughout the congratulatory period.

Later, a buffet lunch was served on the lawn, while the principals and seventeen of the guests were ushered into the diningroom where a large table, centered with a basket of flowers artistically arranged and flanked with tall slender tapered tiers with bows of white mairne, marked their places.

The wedding cake, in the form of a huge heart, decorated with blue-bells, and a miniature bride and groom, while was placed on a sweet table at one end of the diningroom, was cut and served preceding the departure of the bride and groom.

Dr. Campbell and his bride left by motor for a wedding trip to Canada and other places of interest. Upon their return, they will take up their residence in New Castle.

Mrs. Campbell graduated from the New Castle Senior High school in '23 and from Smith college. For the past two years she has been an instructor at the Shenango township and Union township schools. Dr. Campbell, a locally prominent physician who is associated with Dr. D. C. Lindley here, received his diploma from Butler high school, and Ann Arbor Medical school at Michigan. He has had four years of general practice, and specialized in the eye, ear, nose and throat at the Lakeside hospital at Cleveland, O.

Close and distant relatives of Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, who are prominent in the social set of this vicinity, were present from Sewickley, Canonsburg, Sharon, Youngstown, O., Martins Ferry, Jeannette, and Akron, O.

A large collection of gifts have been received by the couple from their host of friends testifying to the esteem of which they are held.

A GESTURE OF CONFIDENCE

IN THE announcement of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads that they will begin immediate construction upon new passenger station facilities on the main lines here, there appears to be something more than just satisfaction over a new station to be derived.

The fact that these two railroads are willing to spend a quarter of a million dollars in New Castle is a splendid gesture of confidence upon their parts. It indicates their confidence in the possibility of commensurate returns for their investment. Railroads do not build stations for the mere purpose of spending money. Back of such expenditures are carefully studied plans, surveys of possible returns, and a summation of what the general business conditions will be.

The immediate good coming out of the new station will be two fold. First is the fact that men will be put to work erecting the station and materials will be bought for them to use. Second is the fact that New Castle will at least get a creditable railroad station.

Over and above these two elements however, stands the fact that the railroads are not afraid to back their opinions with their money. The announcement presumes a confidence in New Castle and its future, and the citizens of this city should and do appreciate the actions of these two great transportation companies.

THE WATER CULT

Humanity is roughly divided into two classes, people who like to go swimming and those who do not; or, to be more exact, people who say they like to go swimming and those who admit that they do not.

People who like to swim, or say they do, for some strange reason are invariably possessed of that missionary instinct to make converts. They are forever suggesting swims, reminding of private pools or informing others of nice swimming holes in the country where the bottom is either muddy or stony. They threaten, coax, cajole, banter, sneer, beg, wheedle, command and exert all the other influences known to man to divert his fellow from a set purpose to stay out of the water.

People who like to go in swimming usually have their own way, so he who does not invariably finds himself soon or late poised above the brink summoning courage to undergo the first distressing shock of cold water. After the dreaded immersion is over he learns the real purpose for his presence in the party.

He is to be the audience. With teeth chattering and half submerged in water, he stands around watching the fancy diving and sprints of the fellow who inveigled him into joining the expedition.

PLAY GOLF?—YOU ASSUME RISK

The Superior Court of Pennsylvania, in overruling a lower court in which a golf player on the Philadelphia links got a verdict for $10,000 for injuries received when struck by a ball driven by another player, establishes a precedent that directs attention to the importance of safety on the links.

The judgment was set aside, the court saying: "It must be admitted that the plaintiff assumed all the ordinary dangers incident to the game. It is well known that not every shot played by a golfer goes to the point where he intends it to go. If such were the case every player would be perfect, and the whole pleasure of the sport would be lost. He (the plaintiff) must have known that many bad shots carry the ball to the right or left of the intended line of play. This risk all golfers must accept."

This decision and the number of injuries reported of late on courses in different parts of the country may cause some speculation as to what plan for compensation may eventually be adopted.

HOW DO YOU FEEL?

We are everlastingly asked about each other's health and paying no attention to the answer. Prof. Hulsey of the University of Wisconsin has taken this business seriously, with notable results. After asking 900 persons, of both sexes and all ages from 10 to 90 how they felt, he submits these facts:

People's "sense of physical and mental well-being" is lowest in January, February and March, rising in April and May to a climax in June, falling off a little in July and August, rising again in September and then falling the rest of the year. This variation will be readily interpreted as due mainly to the difference in sunlight through the year, with health gain checked by midsummer heat. The curve can doubtless be evened out pretty well by the use of artificial ultra-violet.

The other findings are more surprising. Those who go to bed early feel worst, those who go to bed after midnight feel best, which is just the opposite of the way they ought to feel. Single persons and married persons with no children feel better than married persons with children, which likewise doesn't seem right. Business men and women feel better than those in other occupations; housewives usually feel bad. Of the days of the week, people feel worst on Monday.

What do you make of it all? It would be interesting to make a few personal inquiries and observations.

One bee in a closed car is a crowd.

It may be "static" or "stattie" to the purists, but it's terrible to the radio fan.

Sales resistance may retard the sale of cars, but the resistance of telephone poles makes up the difference.

Another advantage of old Dobbin was that any argument with a locomotive made him worth a lot more.

We notice by the ads that it is now quite proper to admire the host's new electric refrigerator without wearing a tuxedo.

The Persians still had something on the modern motorist. They fastened scythes to their chariots to mow down the pedestrians.

Nothing has been heard for a while from Bossy Gillis, the Newburyport mayor who went into vaudeville, and perhaps he became an acrobat.

Every Mexican bandit, according to a close observer, nurtures in his breast the fond hope of some day gaining promotion to the status of revolutionist.

Henry Ford gets 1500 letters a day asking for money, but that doesn't cost Henry as much as if he had 1500 requests a day for cigars, and carried cigars.

Lazy Shaving Thoughts
The Same Old Face!
What a Nuisance!

By MARSHALL MASLIN

"Here's that old face again, needing to be shaved. Same old face, same old beard, same old nuisance. Who started this business anyway?" Must have been the Romans. They were smooth shaved. What did they use for razors, I wonder? Pieces of glass? They didn't have good steel, either. Guess it wasn't much fun. Must have been a lot of poor shaving in those days. "What a lot of time I've used shaving this old face. Fifteen minutes a day. . . . Nearly four whole days in a year. . . . putting on the lather, scraping it off again. . . . Barbers spend more time than that, with all those hot towels and lotions and things. What do they do that for? Maybe the customers demand it, don't they? They're getting their money's worth if the barber doesn't do a lot of unnecessary things? . . . Guess that's it."

What's the poem I read once about shaving? By Bliss Carman or Dick Hovey. Something about going to the barber. Something like: "When Woolrich comes home from the barber. . . ."

Although he no longer is young One cheek is as soft as his hair. And the other's as smooth is his tongue. "Why can't I get that kind of shave? Trouble is, my beard is too tough and my skin is too tender. I'd scrape all the hide off if I tried to shave like that. . . . Funny thing, too, my hair is brown, but my beard is sort of reddish. . . . And how I ever get into this habit of shaving at night instead of the morning. When you do that, you have half a beard again by the time you wake up. . . . People are funny. No denying it."

"Some time I'm going to try one of these straight-edge razors. My grandfather had seven of them."

Remember those days when every barber shop had private mugs on shelves against the wall, with names on them? What ever happened to that custom? What happens to anything? Suppose a fellow invented a way of taking your beard off forever and forever: would he make any money with his trick idea? . . .

"Not a dime, not a cent. . . . "Everybody howls about the nuisance it is to shave. But every man ever knew was sort of proud if he had a thick black beard, and had to shave once a day and twice if he was going out to dinner. . . . And after a good shave the face does feel better, too, kind of slick and clean and smooth and braced up. You feel different you feel new."

"But it's an awful nuisance, just the same. Four days a year, year after year, forever and ever. . . . Some day I'll take a vacation in the mountains and I won't shave for a month. That's what I'll do."

OVER-EXERCISING?

If the sport you enjoy claims any of your thought during your working hours you are permitting your pleasures to get too strong a hold on you.

On the other hand, if you can dismiss the subject from your mind and do not think of it until your work is done your recreation has a deserved place in your program.

You may be too vigorous in your sport, indulging to the extent that you become stale in it.

When you find this to be the case, you have all the proof you should need to prove you are exerting yourself too much in it.

When your sport leaves you tired and worn out after indulgence it is being carried too far—or engaged in too often.

Many sports enthusiasts fail to make advancement in their favorite line because they subject themselves to too much of it.

Muscles do not have time to become rested and consequently will not function as they should or would under favorable conditions.

Perhaps your poor game may be due to not using good judgment in the time you spend in it.

Exercise to make and keep yourself fit and fine but don't overload your machine.

In the good if you are ever to live rightly.

In justice if you ever hope to plead for it effectively.

In tomorrow if you hope to make today worth while.

In goodness and purity if you ever hope to see them.

In your community if you want to be a good citizen.

In yourself if you ever hope to find satisfaction in life.

It's Wonderful What a Closed Door Will Keep Out.

An anarchist who is in a jail in Ohio was fined $150 for making a communist speech to his fellow jailbirds. Seems to us one place to get one's trap shut would be in jail especially on the subject that got him into the calaboose.

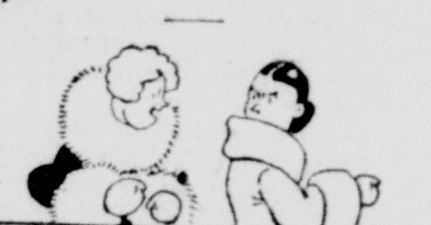

We Are Betting There Are No Hungry People In Germany In Spite of Hard Times.

Every Acre of Ground in Germany is Cultivated and All Raise Their Own Eats. They Even Raise Fruit and Nut Trees Along the Roads and Streets and They Are Not Raided by Vandals Either.

Among the short-term bonds that need greater security are the bonds of matrimony.

We notice quite a few people dying from the effects of poison like again. It's more dangerous to take a chance with strange likker than it is to take one with strange people.

IF THE STRANGER SEEMS DISTANT AND COLD, IT'S BECAUSE HE IS AFRAID.

Some boys are perverts; some have slight physical imperfections that make them morally sensitive; some are cowards; some have been made snobbish by silly parents. All of these develop a protective shell to keep out the world. As men they are unapproachable.

But the normal boy, who has developed in contact with his kind and has no reason to be afraid or feel ashamed, has a natural capacity for fellowship. He enjoys people.

Then why is it that the average man resents the advances of strangers?

If you travel much, you divide men into two classes: shallow, stupid, boastful, talkative men who tell strangers about their private affairs, and men with cold eyes who discourage conversation.

But these men with cold eyes who wish to be let alone are not cold-hearted men. They have families, hobbies, friends, charities. Intimates call them "Bill."

Well, consider the pup. The pup is eager to make friends. He approaches strangers with tail a-wag and eyes alight with good-fellowship. He wishes to be petted; he wishes to lick hands.

But his very eagerness is his undoing. He gets kicked in the ribs. He is a pest. And because he is repulsed and abused, he loses confidence in mankind. He becomes a sneaker, or he learns to good-fellowship. He wishes to be petted; he wishes to lick hands.

Precisely the same thing happens to the normal young man who has a capacity for fellowship. He gets hurt because he trusts too much, and then he becomes cynical and fears too much.

The cold and distant man who repulses your advances is afraid of you. He has learned that people who make advances are nuisances or oily men who have designs on him.

His cynicism is a pose—a protective mechanism. He doesn't resent a hand on his knee because he is an aristocrat, but because strangers who place a hand on one's knee are asses.

His aloofness is a confession that he has blisters. Cynicism is merely the outward evidence of concealed scars.

Miss Minnie Elsie Shaner presiding at the piano.

The Salvation Army band of Sharon, Pa., under the command of W. U. Henshaw, played these special numbers to the delight of the congregation.

Dr. Johnson brought a burning gospel message on the Valedictory Prayer of Jesus as contained in the seventeenth chapter of John dwelling especially on the sanctification of the disciples.

Evening Service.

The evening service was the crowning meeting of the day. A large audience was present to hear the Kentucky Colonel's great message on "Sixteen to One," or sixteen verses of scripture directed and dedicated to one proposition, namely, the Baptism with the Holy Spirit. The sermon presented in a convincing manner made a profound impression upon the congregation. A number requested an interest in the prayers of the Christians. The Nightingale quartette of Franklin entertained the audience with a number of special songs.

Rev. S. R. Maitland, pastor, announced services for Monday evening, 8 o'clock daylight saving time, and exhorted the people to rally by the camp. He predicted that a great revival wave would sweep the community and result in the salvation of souls. The services are free for all the people irrespective of denominational affiliations.

Tonight Dr. Johnson will preach on the Immortality and Innate Value of the Human Soul. Rev. Socie and Rev. Braden Houk were present in the evening service and led in prayer.

Must Not Dump Tree Limbs About City

Supt. Of Public Safety Orders Limbs Hauled To Sampson Street Lot

Since the recent storms which broke down trees and tore limbs from others, people have been dumping the debris in various spots about the city particularly along the Blaine street hollow, Superintendent of Public Safety, Clayton H. Reeves stated this morning.

The practice has been ordered discontinued, and a lot has been secured on Sampson street, along the west side of the street, where the tree limbs can be taken and the city will burn them.

The dumping of large quantities of broken tree limbs creates a fire hazard, Mr. Reeves states, and might be the cause of a fire which would damage surrounding property.

City employees, as well as private individuals had been guilty of the practice, Mr. Reeves stated, but in the future all persons having such debris to dispose of, are asked to take it to the Sampson street lot.

Inter-Hut Race Grows Exciting

Scout Camp Phillips' Boys Strive For Honors; Kiwanians Coming

By SCRIBE JOHN STUMP
CAMP JOHN M. PHILLIPS, July 20.—Keen competition is being shown by scouts at Camp Phillips in the daily hut inspection. Very rarely does a hut keep the banner twice in succession. Saturday, Hut No. 5, "Mrs. Poister," scored the highest points and won the banner. Members of this hut are Gordon Welch, leader, Robison, McDonald, Clark, Hogue and Means. This hut had won by a slight percentage and it held the banner only over night.

Sunday the banner hut was Circle Lumber Hut No. 11. These winners, John Stump, leader, and Bill Stein, were awarded a watermelon. The two had difficulty in eating the whole melon but were finally aided by other obliging scouts. Tables 7 and 8 received a special treat for winning the silk flag at least three times. This flag is awarded to the neatest and cleanest table each meal.

Hamilton in Charge.

The finals, which will show which stockade is camp champion, are to be played between the winners of the Thompson Croquet game versus the Daniel Boones. The tennis singles champion for the past week is Dick Hamilton of the Indian village. This decisive victory was won from Howard Swick on Saturday. Further tennis, golf and archery championships will be run off sometime during the coming week.

The campfire program had to be held in the auditorium on account of the dampness. Music was furnished by the Phillips symphonic orchestra, alias the Little German Band. Request numbers were played and the program was continued with the true but almost unbelievable story of Sergeant York's adventures in the World war, told by Camp Director LeRoy Norton. The boys were held spellbound as the incidents were related.

Special Visitor.

Today we had as visitors Fred Kendrick of the Blue Mountain camp of the Schuylkill county council. Mr. Kendrick is a member of the staff there and spent the week-end here visiting his cousins, John and Alfred Stump.

Sunday school was held under the leadership of Burdell Sankey. Talks were given on the scout oath laws by Tom Rambo, Herb Christman, Jim Kirkpatrick, Gordon Welch, Bill Pherson and John Stump.

Some of the visitors of the day were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dwyer, Mr. and Mrs. H. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kelly of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bucklin, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hogue, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Liebenborfer of Ellwood, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cunningham, also of Ellwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hawkins of New Castle and Dr. and Mrs. Rosenthal of New Castle.

Feathers were awarded by Chief Rambo to the Indians. The Indians now possess five feathers. These will be made into head-dresses and other Indian designs.

John Hancher entertained at the campfire with two stoves. The orchestra played numerous numbers. The Ellwood Kiwanis club will hold a meeting and dinner at this camp on Tuesday.

people who have travelled it on their way to and from Florida Winter resorts and is a well paved road for nearly its entire length—all of it is paved in one way or another.

The worst roads which I encountered however were the high arched macadam ones to be found here and there in the Northern states, the worst being found in Pennsylvania. They were built in the "Year One of the Automobile Era" when the main idea was to get the automobile out of the mud. They are highly dangerous roads and unsafe for a speed in excess of twenty five miles an hour and on curves to the left a speed of fifteen miles an hour is none too slow. I am given to understand that in Pennsylvania, at least these roads are rapidly being replaced with concrete pavements.

Pittsburgh Has Severe Storm

Heat Wave Chased By Heavy Rainfall—Homes And Streets Are Flooded

THREE VICTIMS OF HEAT RECORDED

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Greater Pittsburgh caromed from one natural extremity to another today. Intense heat, that took three lives over the week end, was dispelled only by one of the heaviest rainfalls of the season, which left in its wake damaged homes, flooded streets and fallen trees.

While thermometers that had registered over 90 yesterday fell sharply with the downpour, oppressed inhabitants, relieved of the heat, found the first showing of the city's free Sunday movies in four parks postponed because of the rain.

Street car traffic was halted while crews worked to clear the tracks of debris. A cable struck by lightning in Preble avenue disabled the lines of the Linden telephone exchange and the teletype system at the Woods Run station.

Although the severe downpour loosened the grip of the heat wave temporarily, indications were today that temperatures would again climb to over the 90 mark.

MY NEW YORK BY JAMES ASWELL

Central Press
NEW YORK, July 20.—The Gypsies appear suddenly in a neighborhood and every other unrented store in the block blossoms forth overnight with garish posters in reds and oranges and greens, showing the human skull subdivided phenologically like a projected sub-division mapped by mad realtors—or huge spread palms resembling medieval maritime charts.

Gypsies, despite the pastoral odes of Mr. Konrad Bercovici, are unhappy out of the cities. Konrad himself, it might be pointed out, has written scores of articles on European night life in the big cities. That wandering race can best preserve its shyness in the howling crowds. Two blocks from my apartment house there is a brief stretch where half a dozen signs offer panaceas of love and business for fifty cents—or your future will be read comprehensively for the same amount. "Make millions! We tell you how!" one banner flaps bravely over a two-by-four establishment swishy with multi-colored skirts and tinkly with bracelets.

And, for all I know, the Gypsies may be in sole possession in these days of the alchemic formulae for profits. Miss Mary Miller clad in the sweeping regalia of her tribe, the other day entered a 16-cylinder Cadillac and was waited to court. Mary was charged with larceny, it is true, but perhaps the Nordics were only jealous. Her glittering equipage is not surprising. Have you ever seen a Gypsy in a small automobile?

Small Town Is Threatened By Damaging Fire

Heroic Work By Volunteer Bucket Brigade Saves Town Of Belgian Hill

(International News Service)
CANONSBURG, Pa., July 20.—Heroic work of a water bucket brigade, formed by volunteers, today saved the tiny community of Belgian Hill, near here, from destruction by fire.

Fire starting in the home of Jules De Barker threatened to wipe out Belgian Hill, located above the mining town of Cecil, 10 miles from Canonsburg.

Aroused by smoke, DeBarker, his wife, uncle, Sebastian Kochler, and Major Zgorislki, a friend, battled the flames alone while Pete De Blander, a neighbor, called the Canonsburg fire department and summoned nearby residents.

With buckets and tubs the hastily formed line of volunteers held back the flames until fire-fighters from Canonsburg arrived. The fire destroyed the DeBarker home, a six-room frame and brick dwelling. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

Supt. Green Is Busy Interviewing Those Who Would Teach Here

Since his return from Los Angeles, Cal., where he attended the National Educational association convention, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools has been busy interviewing candidates for positions as teachers in the schools of New Castle.

Their qualifications are listed and as vacancies occur, Dr. Green has the task of selecting from a long list. The turnover this year will be smaller than last year and when school opens in September there will probably be less than forty new faces seen in the teaching personnel of the schools.

Blue Hydrangeas Brought To News

Three of the finest specimens of blue hydrangeas seen in the city were brought in to Fred L. Rents, president of The News today, the courtesy of James A. Bell of 310 Elizabeth street. Each of the blooms is large and well developed, with a coloring that is rich.

According to Mr. Bell, the blue shading in hydrangeas can be produced by placing iron at the roots of the bush. Rusty nails or spikes or pieces of iron are sufficient to color them, but the ones sent in by Mr. Bell evidence a lot of care and cultivation.

Wholesale Prices Continue To Drop

Wholesale Prices For June Shown As 3/4 Per Cent Less Than For May

PURCHASING POWER OF DOLLAR IS UP

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 20.—Wholesale prices continued to decline, and reached a point 3-4 per cent less in June than they were in May, while the purchasing power of the 1926 dollar in June was $1.429, the Bureau of Labor statistics announced Saturday.

Farm products as a group averaged 2 1/2 per cent below May prices, due to decreases for oats, rye, wheat, beef cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs, poultry, cotton, hay, domestic wool, and oranges.

On the other hand, corn, chickens, fresh milk at Chicago, fresh apples, and lemons were higher than in the month before.

Among foods, price decreases were reported for butter, fresh and cured meats, canned salmon, bananas, oleomargarine, and edible tallow, resulting in a net decrease of about one-half of one per cent for the group. Cheese, dressed poultry, coffee, sugar, rye flour, corn meal and lard averaged higher than in May.

Many declines shown further decreases were shown for cotton goods, silk and rayon, woolen and worsted goods, and other textiles. Causing the group to decline nearly 1 1/2 per cent within the month.

A decided decrease in petroleum products forced the fuel and lighting group down 4 1/2 per cent from May to June. Anthracite coal advanced slightly, while bituminous coal and coke showed further recessions.

Among metals there were slight declines in certain iron and steel products, with larger decreases for nonferrous metals. Automobiles and other metal products remained at the May level.

Lumber, brick, cement, paint materials and other building materials continued to move downward in June. No change was reported for structural steel. The group as a whole showed a decrease of a little more than 1 per cent.

Cost Of Living Shows Decline

Report Shows Cost Of Living Has Declined 6.5 Since Last December

FOOD PRICES ARE SHOWN DECREASED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 20.—The cost of living has declined 6.5 per cent since last December, the bureau of labor statistics announced Saturday, basing its report on prices obtained from 51 cities on food and from 32 cities on various articles of clothing, rent, fuel and light, house furnishings and miscellaneous items.

These items have been weighted according to the importance of the family budget and are based on prices in 1913 as 100.

"From the peak of prices in June, 1920, to June, 1931, the cost of living in the United States decreased 30.6 per cent, and the decline was 9.8 per cent below the cost of living a year ago," said the bureau.

"Food prices are materially less than six months ago, showing a decline of 13.8 per cent."

"For the past six-month period ending June 1931, prices declined 4.6 per cent in the clothing group."

"Rents have been reduced, but not as materially, showing a drop of 3.1 per cent."

"The fuel and light group showed a decline in all cities except one, and the slight increase in this city was caused by higher coal prices. For the 32 cities the decrease averaged 5.5 per cent."

"House furnishings goods have also joined the general downward movement and showed price recessions in June which averaged 6.0 per cent."

"The miscellaneous items also moved downward in the last six months. The decrease for the 32 cities averaged 0.7 per cent. In only one city the miscellaneous items showed an increase occasioned by an advance in street car fare, while no change was reported in four cities."

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Old Man Jupiter Pluvius and his family must have been in a whimsical mood Sunday afternoon. Either that or the Battalions of Storm must have been on parade, with every unit showing its strength. Some of the most peculiar atmospheric disturbances were seen with the rain playing tag in this part of the state.

Here in New Castle they tell me it didn't rain much, but up at Grove City there was plenty of everything. Long jagged flashes of forked lightning that seemed to rent the sky, followed by thunder crashes that apparently were bowling everything in the town. This followed by long ominous rumbles of thunder that sounded like a thousand empty trucks rolling over a loose bridge floor.

As for the rain, it swept along in sheets, bringing a welcome relief to crops, and washing the streets as though a fire hose had been played on them.

From Grove City down to New Castle there were a dozen changes in the weather. At Harrisville it was merely drizzling. This side of Harrisville the rain had not touched. Ten miles away towards New Castle there had been a slight touch of rain and then another dry space.

The cloud formations, were weirdly beautiful. One formation looked like a long block of ice, with myriads of icicles hanging down, and still another patch had the sun back of it painting a golden haze on the fringe. A little later in the evening and lightning back of the clouds looked like a far off pyrotechnical display.

We don't believe that old myth about St. Swinith's Day of course, but the reason for its existence might be interesting. Back in 800 A. D. so the legend runs, St. Swinith of Winchester, England, lay dying. He instructed his attendants to bury him outside the church in the yard where the rain from the eaves might fall upon his grave and passersby tread upon it. A century later the priests of the church decided to exhum the body and bury it with pomp inside the edifice. As they were engaged in the task, the flood gates of Heaven unloosed and the myth had its birth there.

One of the hot notes from New York is that Karl Dane, the movie man with the face like a horse and buggy (and makes it pay) owns a beauty shop on the Main Stem. Now if he would only patronize it a bit.

Here's something that has been rumbling around the desk for long time. It concerns John Carlyle Stewart, who if you don't know was the man who founded New Castle. Back in 1758, Stewart, a son of a Revolutionary soldier got his father's land grant in the western end of Penn's Wood. He trekked out here and found that his land was in the middle of the Indian country.

With his brother-in-law, Hugh McWhorter, Stewart set about laying out a trading post with the boundaries thought to be what is now Falls Street on the North, South street on the south of the rivers on the east and west.

For the founder of a city, John Carlyle Stewart has received as little consideration as it is possible to get. There isn't a marker or a tablet in his honor. There isn't a street or a school named in his honor. As far as any recognition goes he might nearly as well have been Benedict Arnold.

It seems to me that it is high time that some recognition was given to this stalwart pioneer. As a suggestion, this might be worth the while of some such organization as the Daughters of the American Revolution or the Sons of the American Revolution.

After all, memory and sentiment has a place in our civilization. Otherwise we wouldn't spend so much money marking the graves of soldiers, we wouldn't erect monuments, and we wouldn't have the many organizations we have. Wouldn't it be a fine idea if we could do a little something in the way of honoring the man who first came into the wilderness and with his axe and hammer, built the rough buildings that have been superseded by the New Castle of today.

Container Cars Now In Service

Work On New Cars Being Done At Pennsy Shops In This City

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—Container car service, available previously from station to station between the large cities, is being offered to shipper all over the Pennsylvania railroad starting today when the new tariff on container cars becomes effective.

More than $2,500,000 is being spent by the road in western Pennsylvania in reconditioning 600 flat cars and building 3,000 steel containers of six-ton capacity to be used by shippers when a shipment of goods will not justify the use of a whole car.

The containers are provided upon application to the local agent and can be loaded at the customer's plant, taken to the railroad and lifted onto flat cars. The goods is then shipped to its destination without the necessity of handling at transfer points.

Containers are being built at Pittsburgh, Altoona and Enola. Cars are being reconditioned at New Castle.

Piles All Gone

Without Salves or Cutting
Itching, bleeding, protruding piles go quickly and don't come back, if you remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and cutting fail because only an internal medicine can actually correct these conditions. Dr. J. S. Leonard discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients with success in 980 cases, he named it HEM-ROID. Eckerd's and New Castle Drug Co. says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back.

Men Are Neither Suddenly Rich Nor Suddenly Good

So one sage observed. But from our side of the grocery counter, it looks as if what a man gets to eat is a great help to both his finances and his disposition.

For we've yet to meet the man who can eat a lean meal and be the happier for it. And we've never known high prices for even the fanciest food to raise either the spirits or the family fortune.

And having noted this, we haven't stopped there. We're promoting digestions and therefore dispositions, by selling only the best food; and we're promoting savings and therefore bank accounts, by selling it at the low prices made possible only by our huge business and tiny profit.

Kin Sees Flier Escape Death

Consummate skill on the part of Clyde Pangborn, veteran pilot, prevented disaster when Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., his backer and co-pilot, took off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., for a proposed record-breaking round-the-world flight loaded down with 830 gallons of fuel. A crack-up was narrowly averted when the Bellanca monoplane failed to rise at the end of the airport runway with the load of gasoline which the fliers had hoped would take them straight to Moscow. Left to right, as they bid him goodbye, are: Mrs. Dickson Boardman, mother of Hugh Herndon, Herndon, and his fiancée, Mary Ellen Farley.

Tragic End of Romance Of Poor Little Princess

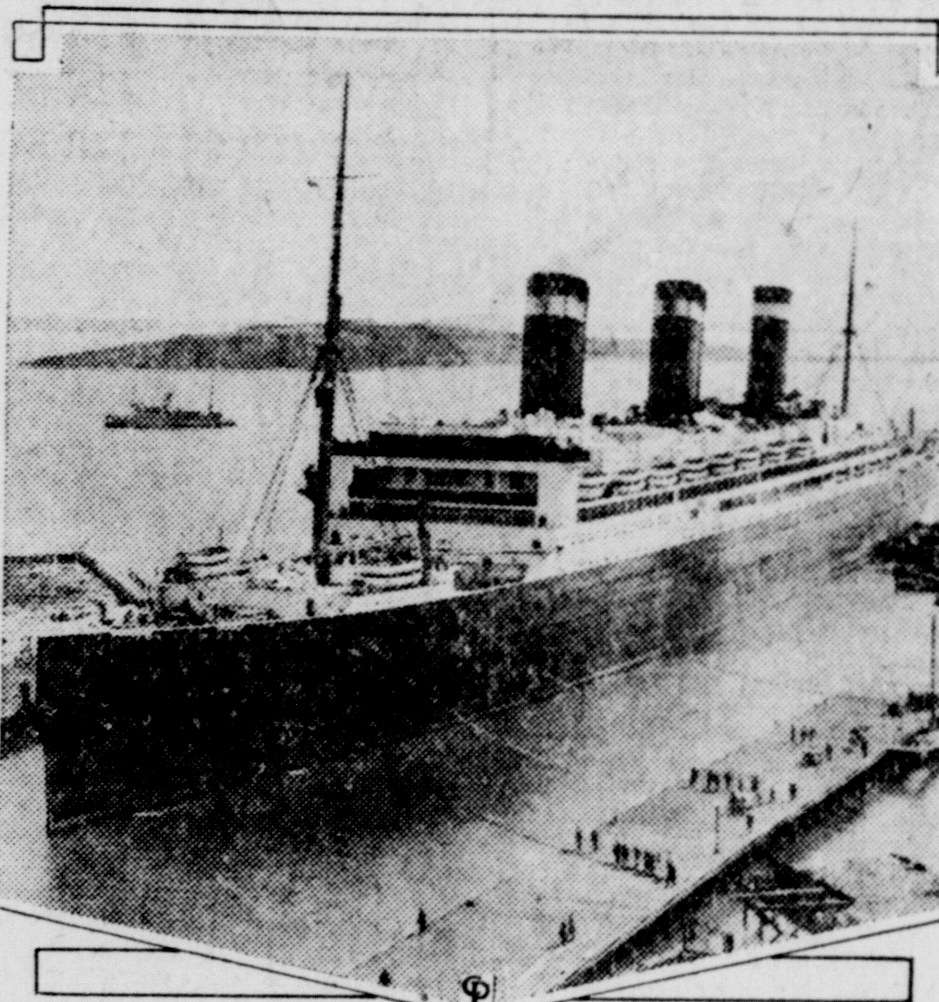

A Bride of Only Two Months, Princess Anna Obolensky Troubetzkoy, of the Exiled Russian Nobility, Plunged to Death from the Eiffel Tower in Paris. Her "Marriage of Convenience" Blamed.

DIAGRAM OF SUICIDE LEAP PRINCESS ANNA TROUBETZKOY

Married to Prince Serge Gregory Troubetzkoy a little over two months ago in New York by a Justice Keller, of the City Court, Princess Anna Obolensky Troubetzkoy brought her short career as a bride to a sudden close when she plunged to her death from the Eiffel Tower in Paris. The Princess was the daughter of Prince and Princess Alexis Obolensky, of the old Russian nobility, now resident in New York. Her marriage to Prince Serge may have been one of the arranged alliances beloved by European nobility and it is significant that the Troubetzkoy and Obolensky families have intermarried for four generations. The tragic death of the Princess amazed Paris and shocked her friends, who were looking forward to her second marriage to the Prince by Russian orthodox ceremony at the Prince's magnificent estate at Clamart, near Paris.

WHO WANTS A NICE BOAT CHEAP?

Would you like a nice, large size steamship in your home? This giant craft probably could be had almost for the asking, figuratively speaking. She is the Leviathan, once the largest ship afloat, which the United States acquired from Germany, when we entered the war. Uncle Sam found her a white elephant, the United States lines acquired her, got into financial difficulties and they can't even sell the ship at bargain prices, that's why the company is requesting Uncle Sam to take back his boat, even temporarily.

Crashes in Which Four Died

The tangled wreckage of two Army airplanes which collided 400 feet in the air near Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas, and crashed to earth instantly killing the occupants, three Army officers and a flying cadet, is shown. The top plane was the one in which Major Charles W. Hart, pilot, of Harrisburg, Pa., and Captain Charles J. Chamberlain, of New York, perished. The bottom plane was that in which Lieut. Austin Rogers, a native of New Mexico, and Flying Cadet Endicott Longacre, of Washington, D. C., plunged to their deaths.

Plunges to Death

Princess Anna Troubetzkoy, attractive 20-year-old bride of Prince Serge Troubetzkoy, is believed to have leaped to her death from the 1,000-foot Eiffel Tower in Paris as the tragic end of her honeymoon, which began May 14, when the titled pair was wed in New York. The Prince and Princess, shown after their marriage, had gone to Paris for the religious ceremony after a civil marriage ceremony near Provincetown, Mass. The mishap occurred in the U. S.

"Wanderlust" Wanders Up Beach

When the skipper of the $200,000 yacht "Wanderlust," owned by John K. Tilton, noted Miami, Fla., attorney, mistook automobile headlights for a light shown after their marriage, had house, he caused the palatial craft to live up to its name for the religious ceremony after a civil marriage ceremony near Provincetown, Mass. The mishap occurred during a thick fog. Insert depicts Mr. and Mrs. Edward Green and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clark, all of New York, and guests aboard the yacht, getting out of dory which brought them ashore from the stranded "Wanderlust." The yacht suffered slight damage and was easily refloated.

Lost-Found Corral for Kids U. S. Champion Orators Sail

Almost as animals are corralled in a zoo, children lost in Lincoln Park, Chicago, are collected by police and placed within the enclosure until parents come to call for them. Officer A. H. Lovendahl, of the Lincoln Park police, is shown with three youngsters who were lost on the Oak street beach and taken to the lost-found corral.

Flight Aids Her

The successful transatlantic flight of Captains George Endres and Alexander Magyar to within a few miles of their goal, Budapest, means more than the usual pride for Mrs. Elizabeth Endres, mother of one of the daring Hungarian pilots. For George, by his spectacular feat, expects to earn sufficient money to give his ailing mother radium treatments and prolong her life. Mrs. Endres is shown ill in bed in her Cincinnati, Ohio, home.

Librarian Gives Opinion Of Book At Local Library

Another Of Series Of Recommended Books Reviewed
By City Librarian

A short review of a book recently acquired by the local library and recommended by the ministerial association of New Castle, is submitted here, as written by Miss Alice Sterling, librarian.
"A book added recently to the New Castle free public library is 'Fundamental Christianity,' by Dr. Francis L. Patton, former president of Princeton University and Princeton Theological Seminary, is obviously the work of a wide reader and the product of a keen mind. The language is frequently technical and the volume is not easy reading, frankly. The point of view is fair, but in his treatment of the teaching of other churches. Originally the James Sprunt Lectures for the year 1924, comparison with 'An Emerging Christian Faith' reviewed recently shows the rapid changes which have taken place recently in the world of thought. Dr. Patton deals with topics which are problems no longer in the sense they were when he wrote and in a manner which (although congenial) is convincing no longer. The writings of Milliken, Edgington, Jeans, Lippmann, and what has been done in the fields of psychology and biblical criticism, the trend in morals and our present economic crisis plainly indicate we are wrestling with many problems other than those dealt with Dr. Patton.
The book contains many suggestive illustrations and will be useful to ministers studying the history of doctrine."

Garbage Collection Shows Big Increase

752 Tons Disposed Of At City Furnace

Collection of garbage here reached its top mark during the month of June, when city collection of garbage employees collected and incinerated at the municipal plant 752 tons. Recently the superintendent, Howard Phillips, stated that the collection had increased, being materially boosted by the fruit season. He remarked at the time that an inspection showed that housewives were not wasting food.
In addition to the garbage hauled away and disposed of by city employees, 100 loads were collected and disposed of by non-city trucks and that he estimated the collection by private persons of at least 200 barrels.
SECURE CERTIFICATES
Persons engaged in the handling of food in New Castle to the number of 64 underwent examination during the month of June and were issued health certificates according to a report of Dr. W. L. Steen, to be presented to city council.

Hard Water Is Harmless For Drinking

Chemical Content Of Aqua Pura Given By Doctor

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Frequent inquiries are made concerning the harmfulness or healthfulness of hard water. The hardness of water is decided by the amount of calcium in it. Water softeners simply take the calcium salts out of solution.
Calcium in drinking water is absorbed into the blood stream and to a certain extent deposited in the tissues. The body needs calcium normally. Such structures as the bones and teeth are made up largely of calcium. It circulates normally in the blood, and has the action of controlling the tone of the muscles. In diseased conditions, or, rather, the natural changes of advancing years, it is deposited in the walls of arteries—so-called hardening of the arteries. It also forms the chemical basis for the nodules and chalky deposits around joints in chronic rheumatism.
There is no reason to believe that an increased hardness of water contributes any addition to the last two processes mentioned. People who drink hard water are not more subject to hardening of calcification of the arteries or to chronic rheumatism than others.

Experimental work on animals indicates that the drinking of hard water results in the formation of somewhat larger bones than in animals who have been reared on soft water alone.
Many physicians are of the opinion that after chronic rheumatism had started the use of hard water for drinking purposes should be stopped. This is a matter of discussion and it must be admitted there is some justification for such a view. The cause of the deposit in chronic rheumatism is the laying down of calcium in and around spots of inflammation in the joints. The calcium will not be laid down under conditions of health no matter how much is in the blood. But after the inflammation has started the presence of excess calcium in the drinking water may reasonably be thought to lead to excessive calcium deposits in the bone.
On the other hand, there is always sufficient calcium in an ordinary diet to provide all the time that can be used for normal or diseased purposes.
We may conclude, however, that hard water is not harmful for drinking purposes in health.

Dr. Steen Submits June Milk Report

"Many people do not understand the meaning of the number of bacteria in milk," said Dr. W. L. Steen, city health officer, in a report relative to the examination of milk sold here and which will be presented to city council this week. In the report the bacteriologist made this plain.
"It is the way we measure the amount of dirt there is in milk," the report continued. "Bacteria live and grow on small particles of dirt and we cannot measure the dirt but we can count the bacteria."
He next explained in the report that "good clean milk should contain less than 25,000 bacteria per c. c." Milk that contains more than 100,000 is classed as unsanitary and unwholesome and its sale is prohibited by law.
The tests conducted of milk sold here during June which gives the name of the dealer, arranged alphabetically, and containing less than 1,000 bacteria follows:

"a cold blooded test in a very hot room!"

One electric refrigerator buyer faced a very hard problem of selecting one make of electric refrigeration for a thousand metropolitan apartments. By elimination he narrowed his choice to four—NORGE and three others.
From there on he refused to take anything for granted. NORGE had to prove itself in a room heated to 120 degrees Fahr. And NORGE did prove itself. It kept the food compartment cooler—froze ice cubes quicker—used less electricity to do it. See test at bottom of this advertisement.

Earl W. Dufford Says:
"I have taken over the responsibility of the entire quota of NORGE Electric Refrigerators allotted to W. F. Dufford & Co., and in order to increase our already large volume and complete our quota this month, I have agreed to forfeit all personal commissions and give the unusual allowance of $25.00 for your old ice refrigerator, regardless of its condition. By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.
Hailstones seldom develop except at the beginning of a thunderstorm during the hottest days of summer, and during the hottest time of the day. Hail pellets or frozen raindrops that fall in early spring or in the autumn, are not classed as hail by the weather bureau. Hail is manufactured in the squall cloud of the thunderstorm—a cloud that rolls over and over horizontally and is lofty enough to be located in a region below freezing. ## Planning For School Opening In Fall

While the summer vacation of the schools in New Castle is only at the half, the preparations for the coming term are going on over at the Administration Building with speed and energy. Hugh M. Marquis, who is secretary of the school district and also business manager, is sunk in a maze of orders at the present time. Orders for books and pencils and paper, wrenches and wood, screws and nails and spikes, and a thousand other articles.

The requisition for supplies for the schools of the city for a term looks like the inventory of a huge department store, with the list for the trade schools in the Franklin and Washington Junior High Schools presenting a widely diversified list. "Shoes and ships etc."

It almost reminds you of that old poem, which starts out, "now is the time the walrus said to talk of many things, of shoes and ships and sealing wax and cabbages and kings." Mr. Marquis doesn't buy many cabbages and he doesn't like kings, but the many things referred to is right down his alley. At the present time he is ordering a list of articles for the trade schools that doesn't amount to such a lot of money in the aggregate but the listing of them all takes a lot of pages.

Skimming over the list one finds, yellow poplar and gum wood, white oak and red cedar, wrenches of all sizes and kinds, guages and hammers and chisels and punches, brushes and chain, knives, cable, washers, lamps, oil, soap, wire, switches, conduit, bells, paste, porcelain knobs, drills, calipers, micrometers, emery wheels, oil cups, steel tape, mandrels, reamers, rivets, stove bolts, saws, planes, plugs, countersinks, augers, scrapers, files, soldering irons, ladles, awls, screw drivers, mallets, oil cans, and the list goes on.

Athletic Material
And then there is the athletic material for the football heroes, the basketball stars and the track flyers. Volley balls, indoor baseballs, bats, sponge balls, soccer balls, score books, pumps and the usual regalia attached to athletics. These are for the junior high school and elementary schools, the high school athletic material coming through the athletic council. For the art department there are paper and erasers and irregular curves to buy, brushes, shears, tacks, scales, pointed ruffels, tracing paper, potassium bichromate, triangles, and T squares, pens and repair sets, ink and pencils and what not.

Each article must be purchased at the lowest and best prices, kind and quality considered and for each article Mr. Marquis must scan catalogues and get prices.

It may be vacation for the teachers and the youngsters but it isn't anything like a vacation for the administration building. While Mr. Marquis is busy on his job, S. B. Ligo, superintendent of buildings and grounds has his corps of janitors out at the various buildings, painting and patching and repairing.

Upstairs Dr. Green is interviewing candidates for teaching positions literally hundreds of them, getting their educational requirements, their address and age, pictures, and sizing them up as to whether or not they would make good teachers for the schools.

Actually the Administration Building force is busier in the summer than when schools are functioning for then the routine is much the same.

Motor Vehicle Code Amendments To Be Published

Digest Of All Amendments Prepared By Legal Authority Of P. M. F.

Numerous requests have been made of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation for up-to-the minute information on the Motor Code as revised by the 1931 Legislature, and in order to acquaint motorists with the changes, a digest of all the amendments has been prepared by a prominent legal authority.

These will be published in serial form by The News starting on Monday.

Every motor car owner and operator in Pennsylvania is interested in the various changes in the motor code. In fact, he is required to know them. President Gable of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation states, and for this reason, the digest has been prepared.

A number of these changes are already in effect, while others will go into force soon.

Midgets Hold Hike, Play Mushball Game

Continuing with their summer schedule of hikes, 40 midgets of the Y. M. C. A., led by Roger Meermans, started on a tramp thru the city Saturday. Excitement prevailed as the lengthy procession continued and several members began to sing.

The hikers went up Jefferson street to Euclid, and then to Colonial field. Here the real fun began. Don McGrew and Fred Kerr picked teams and soon an interesting mushball game was in progress. McGrew's team proved superior, however, and the game ended with the Kerr gang at the short end of an 11 to 1 score.

Finally tired and hot the hikers started back for the "Y" where they spent almost an hour in the cool water of the pool. A feed of wieners and candy made the morning worth while. Although there are 76 boys at the camp the midgets are still active and every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday morning finds a large group waiting ready for any activity.

Dear Brother Lion:—
Tomorrow we will have as our speaker Mr. Charles B. Randall, dealer in rare books and manuscripts. His subject will be, "The Romance of Books". Mr. Randall has traveled extensively and has discovered a great many unusual publications and writings about which he will tell us. He will have some of these to exhibit which will be interesting to all of us, if we have any literary appreciation at all. The picnic committee has arranged for a gathering of all Lions and their families on Friday evening, July 24. This will be announced in detail Tuesday.

Very truly yours,
Thomas I. Elliott,
secretary.

Knights St. Vitus Observe First Of Communion Events

Nearly Hundred Members Attend Communion And Breakfast That Follows

First of the communion breakfast observances planned for the members of the Knights of St. Vitus was held Sunday morning and was a pronounced success, with approximately 90 members in attendance and participating in the communion, which was followed by a fine breakfast, served in the hall of the church by a group of the young ladies of St. Vitus parish.

An outstanding feature of the occasion was the fact that through the efforts of the entertainment committee, Rev. Lucian Ducie, C. P. retreat director of St. Paul's Laymen's Retreat League of Pittsburgh, was the celebrant of the mass, at which the members took communion in a body, and also the principal speaker at the breakfast which followed.

Forming in a large group, the members of the club went to the church for the nine o'clock mass, being seated in the front of the church. Father Lucian, following the communion, briefly addressed the congregation and said it should prove an inspiration to the rest of the people to see this fine group of young men take communion.

Following the mass a picture of the participating group was taken, after which the group went into the hall of the church, where the ladies served an excellent breakfast. The tables were most attractive in a color scheme of purple and gold and white, with handsome bouquets of seasonable flowers gracing the tables in an attractive manner.

Following the blessing by Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, the pastor, the breakfast was served, after which E. F. Strizzi, chairman of the entertainment committee, introduced D. D. Valensi as master of ceremonies.

Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, the pastor, was the first speaker and expressed his happiness at the success of the club in this event, saying among other things that "in this organization I see the possibility of the realization of my dreams of the past 25 years. In it I have hope of seeing the restoration of the young men to the church and parish and their help in accomplishing of many things that have yet to be accomplished."

At the conclusion of his remarks the entire group arose and pledged their continued zeal and enthusiasm in the interest of the parish.

Vitus Conti, president of the Knights of St. Vitus, was the next speaker and stressed his hope of the increased activity of the club and his pleasure at the magnificent showing made. He spoke in the interests of the laymen's retreat, in which members of the organization will participate, July 30-August 2.

Peter P. Capitola then spoke and remarked that the organization should be the right hand of the pastor and support him in all things for the benefit of the church and parish. He expressed his faith in the success of the organization.

Father Lucian spoke in a brilliant and forceful manner, in which he said: "The more I know the Italian people in Italian parishes, the more I have that the Italian communities will grow up in the love of the church and will co-operate in making it possible for it to accomplish its mission. You have often seen what one man can accomplish when in earnest, what might a hundred or five hundred in your organization with its aims and purposes not accomplish for the parish?"

"We are fast becoming a nation of model hypocrites following years of political hypocrisy. God has been forced out of the school and the home, and out of almost every phase of life.

"There is only one force today that stands out successfully against the tide that threatens the very foundation of human society, and that is the Catholic church. Men looking about for a fixed point in the approaching chaos find the church standing firm. It is not buildings of stone, churches, schools and the like that makes the Catholic church, for worship is possible any place, but it is that love of God and his teachings that perpetuates it. It is by the example of your lives as faithful Catholics that the world will know what the Catholic church means. The Catholic church will outlast all eternity, if you have that true light of Christianity in you. Be true soldiers of the army of Jesus Christ and go out and conquer in his name."

E. F. Strizzi, chairman of the entertainment committee, brought the meeting to a close with remarks concerning future plans of the Knights of St. Vitus. The ladies who served the breakfast, as well as Father Lucian and the pastor, Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, were accorded rising votes of thanks for their part in the affair.

The entertainment committee in charge of the affair consisted of E. F. Strizzi, chairman; H. E. Ross, vice chairman; F. Augustine, secretary; P. P. Capitola, treasurer; P. P. Mele, P. Parane and Ralph Montico.

Battle Against Oriental Fruit Moth In State

Thousands Of Parasites Are Released In Fight Against Damaging Fruit Moth

WASP-LIKE INSECT IS BEING PLANTED

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, July 20.—In an attempt to curb damage being inflicted on Pennsylvania orchards by the Oriental fruit moth, approximately 2,500 parasites known as macrocentus have been liberated at five points in the state, according to an announcement today by the state department of agriculture.

The macrocentus, a wasp-like insect, has been planted in colonies of 500 at two points in Franklin county, one in Washington county, one in Snyder and a fifth in Erie county. Brought from New Jersey, the attacking parasites arrived in the field in good condition, according to Chief Entomologist T. L. Guyton of the bureau of plant industry. It is the second species of parasite to be placed in Pennsylvania orchards during the present season in a project undertaken by the state to gain control of the fruit moth pest. Field reports indicate the moth is doing great damage.

First discovered in Pennsylvania in 1923, the Oriental fruit moth has spread to all sections of the commonwealth, attacking both trees and fruit.

Find Coat And Hat And Suicide Note

But Officers Believe New Galilee Man Did Not Drown

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., July 20.—After dragging the Beaver river below the Eastvale bridge for more than 24 hours police and firemen were inclined to the belief that John

J. Leihgeber, of near New Galilee, had faked his suicide attempt. Yesterday morning Thomas L. Leihgeber crossing the Eastvale bridge, found a coat and a note, signed by Leihgeber, in which he declared his intention of jumping in the river and drowning himself. A brother-in-law of Leihgeber visited police headquarters last night and told Chief of Police William Davidson that Leihgeber had quarreled with his wife over financial affairs and had left the home, saying he would not return. The point at which the alleged suicide was planned is in the Beaver river, just above the dam of the Beaver Valley Water company. No water is running over the dam and the river is low. Officials at the water company say the body is not in the pool.

Quinax was threading a section of revolving pipe, when the glove of his hand was caught, twisting his arm in such a way as to tear the forearm away at the socket.

Permission To Mortgage Property

In the Carrie Aey estate, Ferdinand J. Aey, executor and Esther Aey Gibson, executrix, presented petition in court this morning, asking leave to mortgage property in the third ward for the payment of debts. The petition stated that an effort had been made to sell the property, but that no offer was received that was considered a fair price. The petition to mortgage was granted.

CANE, FITTED, LATEST STYLE

(International News Service) SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—One more thing for those who go in for "last cries" to worry about. A walking stick for ladies now carries a vanity case in the handle. The handle has a mirror, rouge, lipstick and other accessories concealed. A spring releases a tiny door in the top of the cane, and milady begins her art.

has been charged with the slaying and released under $25,000 bail. A gunsmith identified Swower, police say, as the man who purchased the gun found at the scene of the murder. Swower has denied the charge. Above, Miss Davis and Milligan with Swower, inset.

Feet Shod With Preparation Of The Gospel Of Peace

An Epistle To New Castleites From Rabbi J. B. Menkes

"Put on the whole armour of God that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle . . . against the rulers of darkness of this world."

"Stand therefore having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness;

"And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace." "Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked." (Ephesians 6:12-16).

These lines from the Epistle to the Ephesians are not an isolated instance of the zeal with which the Apostle speaks of the Gospel of Peace and the fervent tribute he makes to its advocates.

In Romans 10:15 he speaks with exaltation: "How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace." Then again (14:19) he urgently pleads: "Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace."

In Corinthians 7:15 there is unequivocal statement: "But God hath called us to peace," a declaration which is repeated almost in every one of the Epistles.

As a Rabbi in Israel, the people, the descent from which Paul repeatedly claims with proud emphasis, I feel it my solemn duty to direct your attention to these apostolic lines.

Above all I must stress the fact, that you are not to regard them as something remote from your hearts, as something that was addressed to and of concern to some distant cities in ancient times.

On the contrary they are fraught with deep significance to the world at large today and come with a direct application to our own city in our midst within two days.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the very foundations of our civilization are trembling and humanity is undergoing a grave crisis, a period of dire anguish and travail.

Everywhere we notice a spirit of unrest, symptoms of an impending change and the birth throes of a new era.

Argently do we labor, fervently do we hope that it may be a transition from a period of crass materialism and boundless cruelty to a period of lofty spirituality and crowning mercy.

Though the world's horizon is overcast with thick clouds, we look with expectant hope to the bright glimmer of a promising and growing light on the edge of the horizon.

Its standard bearers are those men and women, whose feet in the language of Paul "are shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace." Their footsteps are rapidly approaching in our direction, soon our city will be graced by their presence, this Wednesday we shall be hosts to the Pennsylvania peace caravan.

Like the apostles of old they travel from town to town preaching surcease from bloodshed and the saving power of love and peace.

With prophetic courage and inspiration they point out the folly, ruin and desolation of war, which makes the vanquished and victor suffer alike; they denounce the heartless cruelty and stupidity that cause us to bring millions of human holocausts on the altar of a monstrous Moloch.

They are constantly hampered and even ridiculed by the powers of darkness, by the paid propaganda of rulers and profiteers, who forge the "fiery darts" for the destruction of mankind, so that they might pile up heaps of yellow gold from the mountains of mangled flesh and the broken hearts of our womanhood.

Yet undaunted they carry on, for nothing can stem the tide of their sublime ideal; like the apostles of old they cannot be silenced, for the words of truth are in their lips and the spirit of God is in their hearts.

What reception will you give to that courageous little band? How will you react to their Gospel? That depends on whether your religion is a mere cant and mouthing of lips or a deep-seated force that causes hearts to throb in unison with the great soul of the infinite. I prefer to believe the latter and in that conviction I quoted to you the words of your great Apostle and hereby call:

(1) Upon the honorable and justly admired mayor of our city to make a public proclamation thru the press and take such other official cognizance of the peace caravan as he may deem appropriate;

(2) Upon the churches, clubs and civic organizations of our city to send their respective delegations to meet the peace caravan at the outskirts of the city and escort it with due honors to our city hall;

(3) Upon the men and women of our city to attend the mass meeting, which will take place at the cathedral on Wednesday evening at 8:00;

(4) Especially do I call upon those brave men who from their own experiences know the boundless horrors and curse of war, and the mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of those, whose voices have been hushed forever, to come forth and declare that they will no longer tolerate the ravages of war;

(5) I also call upon our efficient and enlightening press to widely herald this meeting and fully explain its exalted purpose.

With the prophet Isaiah I say: "Hark! one calleth: Clear ye in the wilderness the way of the Lord, make plain in the desert a highway for our God".

People of New Castle! Will ye align yourselves with the forces of evil and destruction, or will ye be found on the side of the angels, of those whose "Feet are shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace?" May the grace and peace of God be with you all!

J. B. MENKES.

National Guards Resume Training

Thousands Pay Visit To Pennsylvania National Guards Military Camp

RANKS OF GUARDS INCREASED TODAY

(International News Service) CAMP KEMP, MT., GRETNA, Pa., July 20.—Reveille today brought soldiers of the Pennsylvania National guard out early to start another day of marksmanship practice and combat formations, preparatory to the start of the annual war games, in which principles of training will be put to practical use in a theoretical combat.

Ranks of the guardsmen at the training camp were increased to 4500 men with the arrival of units of the 213th Coast Artillery regiment from Allentown and Philadelphia and the aviation corps of the 28th division, encamped near by at the Middletown air depot.

Thousands of Visitors Guardsmen turned to the second week of tactics and training refreshed by visits from the "home folks" who poured into the reservation by the thousand over the weekend.

A steady stream of motorists visited the camp over Sunday and officers estimated that at least 10,000 visitors had seen the military organization of the state at its training.

Most of the visitors arrived in time to attend the annual organization day service of the 110th infantry, composed of Western Pennsylvania troops, under command of Colonel John Aiken, of Washington. The services were held in the open, the General Beary Athletic bowl. Brig. Gen. Edward Martin, commander of the 55th infantry brigade, recalled the history of the regiment and its services in the World war.

Formal Guard Mount Lt. Col. Charles Schall, chaplain of the 28th division, also told of the achievements of the regiment in the war, paying high tribute to its men.

Visitors were also entertained by a formal guard mount, staged by the 109th infantry, comprising troops from Northeastern and Central Pennsylvania. Units of the regiment, under command of Colonel Robert Vail, of Scranton, also gave an exhibition of marksmanship on the target range.

Stimson Begins New Diplomatic Program

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, July 20.—In the face of growing opposition from congressional leaders of both political parties, Secretary of State Stimson was fully launched today on a great diplomatic adventure in London to effect a rapprochement between France and Germany as a prelude to the financial rehabilitation of the latter. President Hoover and his advisors on this side of the Atlantic were anxiously watching the meeting of ministers in the British capital with all the lurking dangers attending American representation at a strictly European gathering. Stimson will have a free hand within the scope of the President's broad foreign policy, and administration officials have carefully refrained from declaring that Mr. Hoover's chief minister of Foreign affairs will not discuss European politics.

Approve Plans For Croton Sidewalk

Will Relay Walk And Erect Fence Along Hill Below Walnut Street

Council, in a brief session this morning, with Messrs. Treser and Genkinger absent on their vacations, approved the plans and specifications for relaying the sidewalk on the Croton hill, between the railroad track and Walnut street, at the edge of the hill.

It is planned to advertise for bids at once.

According to the plans, the sidewalk will be moved nearer to the curb and will be anchored to the curb to prevent it from slipping over the hillside.

WHAT A LINE OF CREDIT MEANS

Credit men have a world of trouble with people whose intentions are of the best, but who simply can't seem to understand what a limited line of credit means.

A credit man, after investigating a customer's credit circumstances and paying habits may decide to allow a customer a line of credit of $100.00. It means one thing only: The customer is entitled to owe that particular store for goods purchased a total amount of $100.00.

That $100.00 or any less figure that a month's purchases may represent must be paid in full in the calendar month following the month during which purchases are made.

It does not mean that $100.00 worth of goods can be bought in one month and $15.00 or $20.00 paid on the account the following month while another bill of $100.00 is being run up.

All bills should be paid in full the ensuing month.

KIT CARSON—7. Kit In California

IN THE SUMMER OF 1827 CARSON AND HIS TRAPPER FRIENDS REACHED CALIFORNIA. THE MEXICANS AT FIRST TREATED THE TRAPPERS COLDLY AND DISTRUSTFULLY. HOWEVER, AFTER THE AMERICANS HAD RENDERED THEM CERTAIN VALUABLE SERVICES THE MEXICANS CHANGED THEIR ATTITUDE.

WITH HIS AGREEABLE PERSONALITY AND HIS ABILITY TO SPEAK SPANISH, KIT SOON MADE MANY FRIENDS AMONG THE CALIFORNIANS AND WAS OFTEN ENTERTAINED AT THE HACIENDAS OF THE WELL-TO-DO RANCHEROS.

MANY ADVENTURES BEFELL KIT IN CALIFORNIA. ON ONE OCCASION HE TRAILED AN INDIAN HORSE THIEF 130 MILES. FAILING TO THROW KIT OFF THE TRACK, THE THIEF WAITED IN AMBUSH AND BLAZED AWAY AT THE YOUNG SCOUT AS HE RODE UP.

KIT WAS NOT SCRATCHED, ALTHOUGH THE BULLET TORE THE SLEEVE OF HIS HUNTING SHIRT. BEFORE THE MISCREANT COULD FIRE AGAIN KIT BROUGHT HIM DOWN WITH A SINGLE, WELL-AIMED SHOT.

Boxers Await Gong Tonight

Fourteen Battlers To Clash
In Seven Four Round
Battles

TAYLOR-COUPETTE
MEET IN FINAL

Fourteen pugnaously inclined youths of New Castle, Kittanning, Lorraine and Cleveland are awaiting the bell, eager to start tossing punches at each other in seven four round battles to be staged tonight at Castle Bowl. The boxers have been training for several weeks and each is anxious to be returned a winner. The carnival of four round clashes is the second of its kind to be staged here and as a majority of the boxers are local ring gladiators a good crowd is expected.

All but one of the 14 have seen action. The lone exception is Don Sheen and he will be pit against Ollie Bellard who has only had one pro ring once. The chief encounter will be fought by Marshall Couette, Cleveland, against Al Taylor, Lorraine. Although they're only scheduled for the last main four round bout here they have featured in 10 round principal roles in other cities.

Marshall has a lot of color. He shook the dust of Utica, N. Y., from his brogans to take instructions from Jimmy Dunn. To date he has met with only one reverse. Taylor has been boxing four years and has met some of the best bantams and featherweights in the tri-state section. In order to secure the battle here he waived several pounds weight, believing experience would offset the handicap. The weight has been set at 128 pounds.

Boldin Vs. Di Muccio. What should prove another exciting scrap should be witnessed when Joe Di Muccio, New Castle, tackles Joe Boldin, Cleveland. They weigh 126. Boldin was a runner-up in the bantamweight class in the amateur tournament staged in New York city a year or more ago. Since turning pro he has had fairly good success. He appeared here against Ray Ritchie. Ritchie made a neat showing with Boldin and Di Muccio wants to do likewise.

There should be a whirl of gloves when Baby Barry, Kittanning, tackles Merle Gibson, this city, at 160 pounds. Barry has fought half a dozen times according to Lou Reddy. Gibson has appeared here only twice but in his last trip beneath the ring lights he outpointed Frankie Frey. He hits often, keeps moving and his awkward style apparently has proved a benefit rather than a detriment to him.

Joe Levesky, Polish wallflower of Kittanning, will attempt to erase the smile from the face of Bill Donnelly, New Castle. Bill fought Homer Gray several weeks ago and made a hit with fans by plugging away and never losing his grin. He is a colored edition to the not yet forgotten Elmo The Mighty and he believes that he will be able to beat Levesky at 163 pounds.

Ruffner Opposes Mido. Kid Wright and Billy Frenzel, this city, will battle at 143 pounds. They staged a good four round slugging match the first time they clashed. Some of the fans thought that Wright should have had the decision because he did not yet forget Elmo The Mighty and he believes that he will be able to beat Levesky at 163 pounds.

Jackie Ruffner of Kittanning, will meet Billy Mido of New Castle. They are to weigh 153 pounds. Ruffner has been to the "weel" several times more than Billy but the latter has received good tutoring and hopes to keep step with the Kittanning coal miner. Mido is in good condition according to his sponsors and will uphold New Castle's bantamweight prestige.

The boxers will start flinging punches at nine o'clock daylight savings time. The bouts will be conducted under the supervision of the Pennsylvania Athletic commission.

St. Andrews Will Play Two Games

The St. Andrews mullball team will play the Gordon A. C. on Tuesday evening at Targart field, at 6:30 o'clock. Friday the St. Andrews team meets the Williams Sluggers at Gaston Park. The church boys are out to make it four straight tomorrow night. Any team desiring games can schedule them by writing to Sam Ongle, 624 Arlington avenue.

North Highland To Hold Practice

Tonight on the North Highland field the North Highland team of the Lawrence County league will stage a practice at 6:30 o'clock. The Highland team is right in the midst for honors in the county league. On Wednesday the strong Universal Sanitary team faces North Highland on the North Highland field.

Three Thousand Fans See Wampum Nine Trim Scarazzo By 3-2 Score

Wampum Defeat League Leaders On Saturday In Ten Inning Contest 3-2

Hall Holds Scarazzos In Check; Hollywood Girls
Are Defeated 3-2

Playing before the largest crowd that has assembled at Centennial field in several years, the Wampum baseball team on Saturday afternoon handed the Scarazzos their first defeat of the second half of the Lawrence County league season. The score was 3-2. About 3,000 fans witnessed the game that went 10 innings.

In the first game of the afternoon the Scarazzos defeated the Hollywood Girls team, 3-2.

The league contest was a pitching duel between Lefty Hall who was on the mound for the Wampumites and "Fiz" Rodenbaugh. Hall pitched for eight and one third innings, limiting the Scarazzos to one bingle which was chalked up by Genock who was the first man up in the first inning. Hall gave way to Dubrovich who hurled the remainder of the game. The former's pitching performance was one of the best in the county league this season.

He got himself in several tight holes in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings but managed to get out of the tough spots with ease. The Wampum aggregation tallied its first run in the first inning when Butchelli started off with a terrific three base hit. He scored when Calipetri threw wild to Genock at third. In the fifth inning both nines crossed the rubber for one run.

Wampum secured its count on two singles by Butchelli and Brill and two bases on balls. The Scarazzos scored one run on a single, a fielder's choice and an error for Romeo the catcher.

Scarazzos Tie Score
The pitching duel continued until the ninth inning when Dubrovich took the mound for Wampum. After Picarro flied out to Cleary, Jewie Coen received a free ticket to first base. George Byak, pinch hitting for James, poked a single to right field which advanced Coen to third and Byak took second on the single. Shields was injected into the contest in place of Rodenbaugh.

With three balls and no strikes Shields smashed out a long fly to center field. Coen scored on the fly. Genock had a chance to win the contest for the Scarazzos but flied out to center field. The Wampum nine came back strong in the tenth inning to tally one run which was enough to win one of the best contests of the season in the county league.

Fitzgerald took first on a base on balls. Robertson advanced Fitzgerald on a pretty sacrifice hit to Shields who threw Robertson out at first. Dumbuck connected with the pill for a double to the left field wall scoring Fitzgerald. Cleary singled on the next play. Dumbuck attempted to score but Byak's throw from left field was perfect. Dumbuck was thrown out at home.

The Scarazzos tried desperately to tie the count in the tenth inning. Mike Orlando started the inning by singling. Calipetri advanced Orlando on a sacrifice hit to the pitcher. Earl struck out. On the next play, Grinnen poked out a hard line drive to first base. Dumbuck elevated himself just enough to touch the ball and bring it down. Grinnen slid safe to first while Orlando attempted to cross the plate with the tying score. Dumbuck made a perfect throw to home plate to throw out Orlando, thus ending the game. The Wampum team won 3-2.

The game proved close and exciting throughout and pleased the spectators. The pitching of Hall coupled with the hitting of Brill and Butchelli paved the way for the Wampum victory. Genock played a whole of a game at third for the Scarazzos. Rodenbaugh limited the Wampum team to four hits. In the first game the Scarazzos proved too much for the Hollywood Girls team.

Redmond Has Bag Full Of Golfing Tricks To Show Public Tuesday

If you are one of the unfortunate golfers who slice on almost every shot, or maybe you hook your ball too far to the left, you will enjoy watching Jack Redmond, international trick shot golfer and teacher when he appears at the New Castle Field Club on Tuesday afternoon.

The exhibition will start at 3 o'clock. Redmond will be here to help your game. He is a recognized authority on the matter of swinging the hickory and steel shafts and for many years has taught golf in Canada, and throughout the world.

Bag of Tricks
Redmond has a whole bag of tricks waiting to show you, on how to make the little white pellet behave. He will probably pull that good one of hitting a ball off a caddy's head, just who the caddy will be is not known yet, there have been very few volunteers. Redmond will pull all manner of clever stunts with a golf club. He is a rare entertainer, having spent many months with Earl Carroll's Vanities.

The feature of the afternoon will be the foursome play against three of New Castle's best golfers, George Trainor, M. K. Gilliland, and Captain V. Arthur Smith. Any one of these boys would give Redmond a battle. He is going to try and break the course record of 73, which has been done but twice since the club opened. Trainor and Smith had 73s on exceptionally good days of golf. Many have tried, but few have succeeded. Maybe Redmond can break par, and maybe he won't, but if he does he will be doing something that Walter Hagen couldn't do when he was here.

Matthews In Charge
The golfing fraternity of New Castle is eagerly awaiting the coming of this well known star who will endeavor to correct your faults with the niblick, mashie and putter. James Matthews is in charge of the exhibition that brings Redmond to New Castle.

If you shoot in the 50s maybe Redmond will give you a few pointers that will put you in the class that goes out and breaks 90 easily and play in the low 40s. Redmond is not so much interested in good golfers, but rather in the class known as duffers, or sufferers as some wise cracker put it.

M. K. Gilliland and Captain V. Arthur Smith have played a number of rounds over the New Castle Field club course in preparation for the Redmond exhibition and have found

While there was gloom in the camp of the United States team, there was rejoicing in the English camp. It has been many years since a British team has challenged for the Davis cup, and the Englishmen are "all hot up" over their chances to capture the prized trophy.

Sharkey-Walker Bout Wednesday Draws Interest

Boston Sailor Boy Will Try To Put Muzzler On Mickey Walker In Brooklyn

BIG THROTTLE TO WITNESS BATTLE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK July 20.—Swift moving drama, such as the average fan visualizes when he contemplates a real prize fight, promises to be enacted Wednesday night in Brooklyn when Jack Sharkey and Mickey Walker side through the ropes to engage in a set to which is billed for fifteen rounds. No matter which man wins, the prospects are the customers will get a big "bang" out of the event.

Sharkey and Walker have enough "it"—fugistic "it"—to pack 'em in. And they will, judging by the advance sale of tickets. The promoters are beginning to hint at a sell-out. Ebbets field can seat about 40,000 persons and besides there is room for 20,000 or more on the infield and outfield grass. If the size of the crowd comes up to expectations, it should be quite a spectacle.

Fight Is Colorful

The big Boston and his smaller but exceedingly rough opponent whom they call the "Toy Bulldog" not only can fight but they have that luring quality known as color. I don't know of a better showman in the ring today than Sharkey. There is something about the fellow when he gets in there that sends you up on the edge of your seat. You never know what he'll do: always the element of drama seems to be in the offing. As for Walker, you'll find him in there swinging—and how!

The promoters are to be congratulated. For this has been the best ballyhooed fight since the death of the late Tex Rickard. Jack Kearns manager of Walker and former manager of Jack Dempsey has whipped up interest amazingly through a series of vehement attacks on Sharkey.

Sharkey is a bum, to hear Kearns tell it. He can't take 'em down stairs. We are told. Moreover, according to the doctor, Sharkey will try to foul Mickey, when he finds the going getting rough just as he fouled Max Schmeling. In a word Sharkey is over-rated.

In a fast mullball game played on the Clifton Flats field on Saturday the Elephants Club team defeated the strong Williams. The score was 12-7.

Johnston's Stiff Left Arm Spells Deadly Accuracy

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer

JIMMY JOHNSTON AT TOP OF MASHIE

NOTE HOW CLUB IS TAKEN BACK FROM BALL

NUMBER 45

Like Jesse Sweetser, Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston has a fine reputation for deadly accuracy on that second shot to the pin.

Five mashie play leaves the star amateur and professional putting for a "one-putt green"—which means scoring.

Johnston's most noticeable factor is the stiff left arm always in control of the club.

At the top of his stroke Jimmy looks very stiff, even to the point of appearing wooden. This controls the groove of the downward swing.

In taking off with the mashie, the arms are extended outward and upward.

It is a good point to remember that the mashie shot is more of an upright swing than any other club in the bag.

The work of the mashie on the backswing hinges on the stiff right leg and the head is held in a very stationary position.

The great difficulty with most players with the mashie is the looseness of the wrists. The wrists play with a firm stroke and punch out toward the hole on the finish.

Never under any condition try to play the mashie for the left of the club.

In other words, do not assist the club in getting height to your shot. This is disastrous. The face of the club is built to take care of the loft and backspin when hitting the green.

NEXT: Horton Smith's Full Iron.

Grover-Titan Grid Game To Attract Alumni

Homecoming Day Attraction Will Be Bright Spot

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., July 20.—Tradition rivalry of many years standing will again reach its height in the Grove City-Westminster football game which will be the homecoming day attraction for alumni of the United Presbyterian school on October 17. Already there is considerable interest in the game, and alumni and friends of both schools are looking forward to the contest.

Westminster has not defeated the Groves in football since 1924 when an intercepted pass paved the way for a victory after Grove City had registered 20 first downs to one by the Titans. Coach Berry of the Crimson will again have a wealth of veteran material to work with, and the Groves will again be conceded the edge this year.

Coach John D. Lawther will find no easy sledding in the fall campaign, his first as head coach of the Titans gridgers. With the Grove game scheduled for the fourth Saturday of the season, he will have to spend much time in getting a team ready for the rivals. The fact that the game will be played on the home field is the only bright spot for Titans fans, although Grove City has managed to win at New Wilmington as many times as at Grove City.

For the first time in a number of years, the two teams will line up with somewhat the same systems of play employed. Berry uses a variation of the Warner system, and in all probability Lawther will shift from the Carnegie Tech system used since 1926 to some form of the Warner system. With "power football" the order of the day, an interesting duel will result.

Football programs with three-color covers and with pictures of coaches and players are being planned. A special insert will be printed for the homecoming day game reviewing the history of Titan-Grover football games from earliest times to the present.

EVILS OF JUSTICE

SPYING ON SPORTS

By WILLIAM RITT

Central Press Sports Editor
Al Simmons is being hailed a hero in Philadelphia because he wouldn't fight.

This queer behavior on the part of baseball fans, noted for their bloodthirstiness when it's two other guys who are doing the bawling, is easily explained. Al chose to use his noodle instead of his fists.

Firpo Marberry, the eminent Washington chucker, goes the story, dusted off the Athletic batting ace with a few hard tosses to the head. When Al voiced his protest Marberry offered to settle matters by personal combat, then and there.

To which Al answered with a loud, equine chuckle and galloped to first base. Later Simmons issued the following statement:

"What a sapadillo I would have been to scrap right there. Ten days' suspension would have been my share of the purse of a ball field battle. Our pennant chances would have been impaired. Ten days' suspension for Marberry would have cost the Washington club the pitcher's services for only two games at most."

The attitude of Simmons, who is not the type that quickly mounts a bicycle and goes into reverse when fists fly, indicates that it is a far cry even with a loud speaker from the day when ball players could only be identified from John L. Sullivan because they wore caps and John sported a silk bowler.

Baseball brawls are getting fewer with the passing years, not because the athletes are less prone to popping each other but because they are no longer the heavyweight fines and suspensions that are slapped on pugilistic pastimes.

It wasn't that way in the old days when managers more or less encouraged bellicose attitudes in their charges, suspensions were regarded as vacations and fines meant little because athletes' salaries were so small that there was no player's bankroll to assess.

If old timers do not lead us astray in their stories of baseball's "golden age," entire ball clubs in the distant past were made up of scrappers.

The Cleveland Spiders, ancestors of the present day Indians, are still remembered as one of the scrappiest teams baseball has ever produced. The Baltimore Orioles were another outfit with a rep of never turning the other cheek in humility and resignation.

But the rowdy past is dead and baseball today think first of jump on the other guy's frame afterward—usually in the clubhouse, screened from the umpire's gaze. But, at that, it would have been interesting to say the least if Al Simmons had accepted Mayberry's offer to trade punches. The boys, then and there, could have settled the question of supremacy between the Senators and Mackmen, arch rivals for the American league flag.

FOREST JUNIORS WIN
On Saturday on the Lehigh field the Forest Juniors mullball team defeated the Butler A. C. team, 7-4. The game was fast throughout. L. Stoner, A. Janacene and S. Janacene were the best for the winners while L. Liverani and Booles divided honors for the losing team.

The score by innings:
Forest.....070 000 0-7
Butler.....310 000 0-4
Batteries: Forest, S. Janacene and A. Janacene; Butler, L. Liverani, and D. Liverani.

On Saturday afternoon on the Lehigh field the Croton All Stars lost a 16-11 decision to the Lehigh nine in a fast game.

The score by innings:
Croton.....022 320 200-11
Lehigh.....104 124 400-16
Batteries—Croton: Freed and Aven; Lehigh: Vanassa and F. Murdock.

VANDALS HUNTED
(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 20.—Police here are searching for unknown vandals who entered East Ridge Cemetery, near Hastings, and cut down every evergreen in the cemetery. More than 200 trees were felled by use of a cross-cut saw, police said.

What is there about a Summer resort that makes you goofy enough to think other people are interested in the number of blankets you sleep under?

Can Bambino Hold Home Run Throne?

There's one thing that a baseball fan loves more than another, it is to see a ball get smacked straight on the nose and sent for a non-stop hop right out of the park. That is one of the big reasons for Babe Ruth's immense popularity. But this season the Bambino isn't having things all his own way. He is being hard pressed for the fence-busting honors. At the time of writing, Gehrig, his teammate of the Yankees, is leading him in circuit wallpops, as is Chuck Klein, of the Phillies. Jimmy Foxx, of Connie Mack's Athletics, is also in the race, an opponent not to be lightly dismissed, while Averill, of the Cleveland Indians, gives indications that he is due to be heard from. Times are hard for kings and even Kings of Swat have their ups and downs.

Three Conference Rivals On Westminster Grid Schedule

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., July 20.—District sport fans interested in the Tri-State Conference gridiron rivalry will find considerable cause for predictions in the fact that Westminster plays but three conference rivals during the football campaign which opens September 26 against Slippery Rock Teachers.

There are but five teams in the conference now: Thiel, Waynesburg, Bethany, Geneva, and Westminster. The Titans will play all but Bethany, no date being available on either schedule for a contest this year.

Another point of interest in connection with the conference race is that Westminster will meet all league opponents in the second half of the schedule. Waynesburg will be played at Waynesburg on October 31. The Yellowjackets take the place of Bethany on this year's card. Thiel will be met at Greenville on November 7. The Titans will end the season with the Geneva game at Beaver Falls on November 21. So, meeting all three conference opponents away from home, Coach John Lawther's men will find their league games plenty hard.

Dempsey Likes Being Promoter

Jack Dempsey Squelches All Rumors Of Attempted "Comeback"

(International News Service)

RENO, Nevada, July 20.—Al-though admittedly intrigued by the thought that any one would offer a million dollars for his services—Jack Dempsey, Reno's No. 1 citizen has no plans for a "comeback," and likes the business of promoting prize fights instead of fighting them.

"I'm going to stay right here and promote fights," the former heavyweight champion said today. "We're still looking around for principals in our proposed Labor Day battle."

"I wish I knew how people who spread such reports get so familiar with my personal affairs," Dempsey said concerning reports he is "broke."

"They know more about my own business than I do, that's certain. I've retired from the ring and I intend to stay retired. Since I quit fighting I've had more offers to attempt a come-back than almost any other man who ever retired, I guess. I have turned them down and shall continue to turn them down, I'm through!"

Quinn has a rep as a cool weather pitcher. He's done nicely in spring and early summer, but whether late July and August heat will lessen his effectiveness remains to be seen.

Ball Yard Banter

SPORT SPORT

Venerable John Quinn Pius (Jack Quinn, to you) may be baseball's Methuselah, but he's also the busiest moundsman doing duty under the big top today. The old man of the mound has labored in more games this season than almost any other pitcher.

Quinn seems to thrive on work. Though he's tossed in more than 25 games, he fails to show the effect of such constant effort.

Jack's record—at this writing—is three wins, four defeats; but that doesn't tell the full story of his work this year by any means. He's hurried in well over a score of games, nearly all of them as relief.

Quinn has pitched in far more games than any other Brooklyn hurler. He's a one-man parade, giving almost daily performances.

At that, Jack has saved many a game for the Robins this year. Such as Dazzy Vance, Adolfo Luque and Babe Phelps have received credit for victories they could not, themselves, conclude. Quinn saved the day for them. They got the credit. He got the exercise.

However, just how much longer old Jack can be depended on to snatch burning brands from the fire is a question bothering Boss Wilbert Robinson.

Quinn has a rep as a cool weather pitcher. He's done nicely in spring and early summer, but whether late July and August heat will lessen his effectiveness remains to be seen.

Unusual Golf Played Here In Recent Match

Foursome Of Local And Grove City Players Make Ten Birdies In Five Holes

Unusual golf was played in the recent team match here between the Grove City Country club and New Castle Field club and a foursome consisting of George M. Trainor, W. M. Nunn of the local club and John and Dewayne Murray of Grove City played some golf on the last five holes, that it is considered doubtful, if any four professionals in the country would have done better or as well in the same type of competition.

The final scores of this group was Trainor 75, Nunn 78, John Murray 81 and Dewayne Murray 75. In the last five holes these players made ten birdies or one under par in all and the balance played in par, at each hole.

On the fourteenth hole, there was one birdie and three pars; on the fifteenth—three birdies and one par; sixteenth hole—three birdies and one par; seventeenth hole—one birdie and three pars; Eighteenth hole—two birdies and two pars.

As an indication of the excellent golf that was played, Nunn one of the group played the five holes in par, yet he lost three of the holes.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Some Stocks Show Moderate Upturn

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 20.—The automobile, oil, steel and specialty stocks were the leaders this morning in a moderate upturn of prices. There was little change in the market as a whole, except that Wall Street derived considerable cheerfulness from the week end reports of progress in the Franco-German negotiations. Today the conferences were resumed in London with the American cabinet members participating.

The rise in the oils was led by the Vacuum-Suoco group, the former advancing nearly 3 points on the curb and the latter up about a point. Standard of New Jersey sold at the best levels on the current move. Houston jumped 4 points to 42 on a small selling volume.

Chrysler's leadership in the popular automobile group was more firmly established in its new advance to 23 1/2 in active trading. The usual reports of a favorable public reception of its new 4-cylinder models were heard in the big financial district. General Motors sold above 38 for the first time in two weeks, and Auburn moved ahead about 4 points.

The rails, utilities, coppers, electrical manufacturing and mercantile stocks just about held their own in a dull and featureless market. Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward made the best showing in the mercantile group; Standard Gas and American Foreign Power in the utilities and General Electric in the electrical group. The market was at a standstill in the second hour.

Russian Student Speaks At Noon Meeting Of New Castle Club

Declaring that officially the Russian "five-year plan" must succeed, although asserting that "no people can be changed from an agricultural to an industrial group in five years," George E. Prujan, student of Russian affairs and a native of the land himself, traced an oral panorama of present and past conditions in that Soviet land today before the Rotary club.

No forecasts nor predictions of Russia's future were made during the enlightening address. The speaker in that regard, admitted that "no one can tell."

Historical Russian events, long history, were recited by Mr. Prujan, a former officer in the Russian Imperial army. He compared today's conditions in the land with those of the past and strikingly contrasted present American customs and privileges to those enjoyed in Russia.

Out-of-town Rotarians in attendance were Frank C. Moore, W. C. Martin and J. H. Newton, Ellwood City; William Carruthers, Butler, and Albert Taylor of New Wilmington.

Kindness Brings York Man $25,000

Act Of Kindness To Old Lady Brings Small Fortune To Man Out Of Work

(International News Service)
YORK, Pa., July 20.—William F. Martin, 40 year old widower, father of a ten year old daughter and one of the army of the unemployed, for the past three months, today is "the happiest man in the world."

An act of kindness to an aged woman in Norristown six years ago today brought Martin $25,000 and a home.

Disclosure of his good fortune came from J. P. Brown, Norristown attorney, who came here today to inform the laborer that the late Mary Ann Weaver, of Norristown, had bequeathed to him the money and a house for his kindness in assisting her one wintry day six years ago when she fell on an icy paving and broke a leg.

Martin assisted her to her feet, summoned a taxi and took her to her home. Then he forgot about the incident, he said.

Three weeks ago the woman died. In her will was a provision for a $25,000 cash bequest and a brick house in Norristown to the "good Samaritan" who aided her.
